

BEGINNERS BRIDGE

Until the current restrictions on Coronavirus end, tutorials for complete beginners will be offered on a one to one basis through a series of modules by e mail. The programme assumes that you will know nothing about bridge but want to use the next three months or so getting to a standard where you can play with others in our Social Bridge group.

Your leader Jeremy North is an English Bridge Union member and a “master” of Southcotswolds Bridge. This sounds impressive but does not imply he has been trained to teach. However he has been a teacher in the creative arts field and has helped quite a few friends to play and all of them are still friends!

There is no reason that a couple marooned at home cannot take the modules together though they should both be members. The modules will need an hour of your time (but include practice hands and a quiz which may take longer) and will be delivered at your pace but Jeremy suggests about once a week unless a huge number sign up.

If you sign up he would like to know if you have played whist in the past as this will affect the first module. Please also let him know if you have skype, face time or whats app. Contact: bridge@tetburyu3a.org.uk
