

Wednesday's book club has 12 members, although it's rare that we're all together. We meet at the Royal Oak on the last Wednesday of every month to discuss a book suggested by one of the members - so many times there are surprised comments about a book we weren't expecting to enjoy.